Senate Might Charge Jaffe as in Contempt

Ex-Amerasia Magazine Editor Refused to Answer Questions; Grand Jury Is Called Back Into Session

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Senate investigators today studied the possibility of bringing contempt proceedings against Philip Jaffe for refusing to answer questions about the five-year-old Amerasia magazine case.

Jaffe was the editor of Amerasia magazine when its offices were raided by federal agents who found government documents there.

Contempt citations already have been recommended against two other witnesses who refused to answer questions put to them by members of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee investigating Communist-in-government charges.

They were Earl Browder, former Communist party secretary, and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, whom Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) author of the Communist charges, has called a "Soviet agent." Field denied the accusation under oath, but declined to say whether he is or ever has been a Communist.

Citations against the two were recommended by subcommittee counsel Edward P. Morgan, but no action has been taken on either.

Morgan told reporters yesterday, after the subcommittee got a series of question turndowns from Jaffe behind closed doors, that he had been directed to draw up recommendations on the possibility of citing the witness for contempt.

Remington Gives Plea of Innocent

Federal Judge Sets July 5 as Date for Fixing Time of Trial

New York, June 13 (AP)—William W. Remington, resigned government economist, pleaded innocent today to a perjury indictment charging him with lying when he denied to a federal grand jury that he ever was a Communist.

Federal Judge John W. Clancy set July 5 for naming the trial date of Remington. Remington resigned from his Commerce Department post after being threatened with ouster proceedings.

Clancy set $5,000 bail for Remington and gave him two days to raise the bond.

Remington's lawyer, Bethuel Webster, told the judge that professional bondsmen have refused to post bail for the defendant because "a loyalty question is involved."

He told reporters later that 14 surety companies had been asked to post bail for Remington and all have refused, saying they would post bond "for perjury and murder, but never where loyalty is questioned."

Clancy set the $5,000 bail demanded by Thomas J. Donagan, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, despite a plea by Remington's lawyer that the amount be cut in half. The attorney said his client "always has appeared when called and has been summoned by the F.B.I. or the grand jury."

The judge gave Remington the two days of grace, however, after Webster said:

"The defendant has got to arrange for cash or collateral. He is on the point of getting some money from his mother and he will need at least $6 hours."

Remington remained silent except to reply "not guilty" in a firm voice when asked how he pleaded to the one-count indictment.

Convicted he would leave a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

Accompanied by Rauh

Remington also was accompanied by his argument by Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., Washington, D. C., attorney who argued a Loyalty Review Board appeal in 1948, after Remington first was accused of Communist affiliations. He was cleared on the charges as a result of the Loyalty Board review.

The charges were brought as a result of statements by Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-disclosed former Soviet spy ring member, who said Remington gave her information to be passed on to the Russians.

Inflation Fears Heard In Congress

Wholesale Price Jumps Regarded as Serious; Taft Says Cutbacks Are to Be Sought

Deficit Is Huge

Half Billion Monthly Is 'Red' Tabulation, Is Report

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Fresh fears of inflation prompted bipartisan proposals today that Congress get busy on the job of balancing the budget.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) told a reporter he regards the threat of inflation caused by rises in wholesale prices as serious, but possibly not dangerous.

"It strengthens the case for reducing expenditures and balancing the budget—that's the best inflation brake," said Douglas, who agrees with the Truman administration on about everything but its monetary policies.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the G. O. P. Policy Committee, said in a separate interview that a vigorous drive is going to be made in the Senate to cut appropriations back to the point of government revenue.

"Adding to Trend"

"We are adding steadily to the inflationary trend with a deficit that is running about half a billion dollars a month," he said.

Douglas suggested that the Federal Reserve Board wait a month or two to see how the price trend progresses. If prices still are going up then, he said the board ought to sell securities in the open market to force government bonds down a little.

"I would hope that the treasury, on the other hand, would not insist on supporting bond prices which would let them fall slightly," he said.

The Senate Judiciary Committee voted yesterday to make an investigation of gasoline prices. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) who sponsored the move, said in a statement that the country is in a period of creeping inflation to which gasoline price increases are contributing.

Form of Substitute

Taft said the Senate's economy drive is like to take the form of a substitute for the Taft and Senate amendments which cut the House-approved single package appropriation bill to an estimated $28,800,000,000.

The amendment sponsored by Rep. Taft (R-N.Y.) would force many government agencies to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Georgia Senator Says Security Program Needs Liberalization, Greater Payments

Senate Finance Head Says System Lags; Would Add 10 Millions

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Senator George D. Aiken said today a more liberal Social Security program is needed to protect additional millions of citizens and give them reasonable retirement benefits.

Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, he opened debate on a bill which would add nearly 10,000,000 persons to the $35,000,000 now covered by the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system and supply increase benefit payments.

Administration leaders are hopeful that the Senate will pass the bill early next week. It is a revised version of a measure passed by the House last October.

George said that a higher level of benefits is long overdue. He noted that the retirement system's benefit formula has been unchanged since 1939, "despite the sharp increase in prices and wage levels that have occurred since that time."

The bill would continue to exclude farmers and certain professional groups because there has been little indication that they desire coverage at this time.

A fight for an even greater liberalization of benefits than provided in the committee bill will be led by Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, with the support of Senator Myers (D-Iowa) and others.

Rejection Is Favored

Outright rejection of the bill is favored by some senators, such as Butler (R-Neb.) and Clegg (R-Wash.), who contend that the present system is basically wrong and that it is useless to try to patch it.

Here are some of the major changes the bill would make in the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system:

1. Extended coverage on a compulsory basis to about 8,500,000 persons and on a voluntary basis to about 1,600,000. Many of the self-employed and regularly employed farm and domestic workers, make up the bulk of those to be brought into the system.

From $26 to $48

2. Increase the monthly benefit payments to the 2,900,000 persons currently receiving old-age (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Body Found On Pier by State Police

Recovery Made by Boat; Coat and Purse Found by Motorist Who Tells Toll Attendants

Age Is 65 to 70

Body Reported Crushed by Impact; 40 Feet Above Water Level

An unidentified woman, about 65 or 70 years of age apparently jumped from the easterly end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge some time after 8 o'clock last evening after passing through the toll booth and walking to a point near the easterly pier.

The body was found lying on the concrete abutment 129 feet below the roadway after a passing motorist had noted men at the toll booth of the finding of a coat and purse on the bridge.

Trooper Elliott Johnson of the Highland barracks was notified and on arrival at the scene found the ac' had been committed on the Dutchess county end of the bridge and Sergeant S. J. Crodella of the Fishkill barracks was notified and the investigation was conducted by troopers from Fishkill.

Recovery of the body from the concrete pier was made by use of a boat. The body was turned over to the Cochran Funeral Home in Poughkeepsie and an investigation was made by Dr. Powell, Dutchess county medical examiner.

Body Is Crushed

State police said her body was crushed when she hit a concrete abutment 40 feet above the level of the river.

The woman appeared to be about 65 to 70 years old, 140 to 150 pounds, gray hair and she had a false upper plate and appeared to have just had a permanent wave. Her eyes were brown and she wore a blue straw hat, blue flowered print dress, black shoes size 4½, and light tan stockings. She had been carrying a black handbag with a light tan bone handle. There were no identification marks on the body.

Passed Toll Booth

The woman was observed passing through the toll booth on the Poughkeepsie side of the bridge shortly after 8 o'clock and it was some time later that a passing motorist noted the coat and purse lying on the easterly side of the bridge near the pier and notified the bridge attendants.

Using a boat to reach the pier, the body was recovered by the state police.

Illegal Entries Made In Business Houses

Illegal entries into two business places within a block of each other in the central section of the city were reported early today.

Preliminary investigation by police and officials of the two businesses failed to disclose anything missing, although in one case evidence indicated an attempt was made to enter a cash register, police said. The investigation is continuing today.

The first entry was discovered at 2:11 a. m. today when Patrolman Louis Sapp, Jr., found a rear screen door at the Broadway Flower Shop, 558 Broadway, had been broken in. Further check showed that entry had been made and an apparently unsuccessful attempt to break the cash register had been made.

At 3:20 a. m. today Patrolman Sapp found the door to the Nutmeg Products Corporation on Field Court had been broken open. Police contacted Raymond DuBois, manager, who after a preliminary inspection early this morning reported that apparently nothing was missing, police said.

Phoenicia Crackup Ends Boy's Wild Car-Stealing Spree

New Yorker, 13, Ran Afoul of Law in Molyneux Auto; Traveled Over State

An automobile-truck collision Monday afternoon at Phoenicia solved the mystery of a missing teen-age boy from New York city and two car thefts, according to the state police.

The youngster, 13, absent from his home, 137 West 60th street since last Wednesday, is in the Kingston Hospital awaiting an appearance in Children's Court after he is treated for injuries that have been reported as not too serious.

Refused to Tell Name

After the crash, the boy refused to tell his name to Trooper Ray Dunn, who learned the car in which he crashed was a stolen vehicle owned by Jay Molyneux, an employee of the Canfield Supply Company on central Broadway.

When the youngster refused to talk at first, it was thought that he might be an amnesia victim, but, according to the state police, he finally told his name to Sgt. Arthur Reilly of the B. C. I.

According to the police, the runaway youngster not only admitted taking the Molyneux convertible, but also the car of Frances C. Pampinello of Highland, which he abandoned in Kingston.

Gives Story to Trooper

Unfolding his story to Sergeant Reilly, the youngster went back to last Wednesday, the day he ran away from home.

He said he got as far as Utica where he was picked up by the police who notified his father. The parent went to Utica to get him.

The boy said his father fell asleep on the train and he jumped off at Heekimer, where he was picked up again by police and held for investigation.

The Heekimer police contacted his father in New York and placed the boy on the train for home. He got off at Beacon, he said, and hitchhiked to Highland.

It was Monday morning that he reached the Ulster county village, where, he told Troopers, he took the Pampinello car on the New Paltz road and drove to Kingston.

Ran Out of Gasoline

Near the Central Post office he ran out of gasoline and abandoned the auto, leaving it double parked on Broadway. Local police revealed that the owner was being sought to face an illegal parking charge.

The boy said he went to the Canfield parking lot near the West Shore crossing and took the Molyneux convertible and headed off route 28. While rounding a turn west of Phoenicia, he explained, he drove on the left side of the highway and collided with the milk truck.

Mayor Appeals for Census Returns for Those Missed

Newkirk Stresses Importance to Citizens on Basis of State Aid; Federal Census Bureau Books to Be Closed Soon in City

The importance of an accurate 1950 census report to the city of Kingston was stressed today by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who urged all citizens who were missed by enumerators to file "Individual Census Returns" with the local census office immediately.

All forms of state aid to cities, including aid to education, are based upon the latest available census figures, the mayor pointed out. Therefore, unless every citizen is enumerated, Kingston will lose a portion of the aid to which it is entitled in future years, the mayor said.

The census books will be closed in this city "shortly," it was announced by J. J. Carroll, district supervisor, and once the books are closed it will be impossible to make corrections until the 1960 census is taken.

The "Individual Census Reports" referred to are forms which were left at the homes of persons who had sent to the census office the "missed persons" coupons recently printed in this newspaper.

Procedure Explained

Carroll explained that this procedure was followed:

First, enumerators visited almost everyone in the city and made their reports. The few persons missed were asked to mail to the census office the coupons which were printed in local newspapers.

On receipt of the coupons, the census office assigned enumerators to visit the persons who sent in the coupons. In most cases, these persons were at home, and a report was made.

However, a small number of these "missed persons" were again (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Air France Plane Crashes; 5 Dead

Fate of 39 Others Doubtful Six Are Rescued; Search Made

Paris, June 13 (AP)—A four-engined Air France plane with 50 persons aboard crashed in the Persian Gulf last night. After 12 hours of rescue operations, five are known dead, six have been rescued and the fate of 39 persons was in doubt.

The plane ditched in the gulf north of Bahrain island, off the east coast of Saudi Arabia. It had been due at Bahrain last night. A message to Air France headquarters in Paris today from Bahrain said the search was continuing.

Two of those who survived the crash were members of the crew of eight. The other four were from the list of 42 passengers aboard the flight from Saigon to Paris.

The plane was making a hop from Karachi, Pakistan, to Cairo, and had been scheduled to make a landing at Bahrain. The pilot radioed the airport for landing instructions 10 minutes before its scheduled arrival. After that nothing more was heard from the plane.

An official at Air France said the plane's passenger list had not been received in Paris yet but he believed all aboard were of French nationality except one displaced person without a passport.

Western Pennsylvania Counties Affected by Dispute

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP)—State police patrols rolled across a seven county milk strike area today in western Pennsylvania. Four pickets were arrested on charges of violating a court order.

Charges of dumping milk truck loads brought orders from Governor James H. Duff to state police to guard against violence on the state's highways.

Dewey Assails Dairy Plight Caused by Truman Policies

Watertown, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Governor Dewey claims the Truman administration—either "deliberately or ignorantly"—is driving the north-eastern dairy farmer into poverty.

Dewey also accuses the Federal government of using its power to regulate milk prices to whip eastern dairymen into line politically.

The governor, who is making a three-day tour through this northern New York dairy country, made about 500 milk producers here last night. His talk was part of the opening-day activities of a week-long dairyland festival in Watertown.

He speaks here today at a luncheon (11 a. m., P.S.T.) sponsored by the Jefferson County Republican Committee.

Dewey came here from Albany by way of Oswego where he laid the cornerstone for a group of three new buildings at Oswego State Teachers' College and spoke to the college's 89th commencement. He will return to Albany tomorrow.

In his talk to the dairymen, Dewey charged that federal farm price supports had made dairymen "victims of an unmerciful price squeeze."

"The government is 'pricing' the dairy farmer into poverty," he added.

"I am speaking out this industry because I think the dairy industry is either being deliberately or ignorantly squeezed," Dewey declared.

"It may be for the purpose of making the dairymen submit to the fantastic Brannan (price support) plan or it may be simply because the present national administration doesn't care about the farmers of the northeast."

Dewey said that, while the price of milk had been falling in recent months, the price of feed grains had been rising because of federal price supports.

"There is something rotten—not in Denmark—but in Washington which controls both the prices," the governor declared.

At Oswego, Dewey told the Teachers' College's 342 graduates he did not have time to attempt to have students learn by memory. He urged them to teach truth, "arrived at through known facts."

Labor Party Asks Hands Off By Britain on Europe's Plans

London, June 13 (AP)—The nation's governing Labor party called today for Britain to keep out of further programs for European political and economic union until unity-minded continental nations turn Socialist.

The strong policy statement, which rejected the Schuman plan for pooling European coal and steel, came as Prime Minister Aitken prepared to explain to the House of Commons later today why the government is staying out of the six-nation talks on the plan June 20.

Though not an official government declaration, the party statement was seen as an answer to critics that Britain is impeding the progress of European recovery by a "go slow" attitude toward European unity proposals.

The statement, issued by the party's national executive committee, made plain that the Socialist government favors mergers with Europe may jeopardize their welfare program of full employment and mounting production through government planning.

It expressed the party's traditional distrust of capitalistic free enterprise.

It also emphasized that to the Laborites European unity is not "an overriding end in itself," that national sovereignty and Britain's obligations to her globe-girdling commonwealth of dollar-supplying colonies and dominions must come first.

The Laborites made clear their belief that effective operation of joint international planning required socialism in the countries participating. Such planning, they said, "means nothing" unless all (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Houdek Gets Permission

Washington, June 13 (AP)—The United States today gave Vladimir Houdek, former Czech representative to the United Nations, permission to remain in this country.

The action was taken on grounds that Houdek might have to pay with his life if forced to return to Communist-run Czechoslovakia. Houdek broke with the Czech government and resigned his U.N. post on May 16.

Telegram Misses Two Editions as Guildsmen Strike

New York, June 13 (AP)—The World-Telegram and Sun missed two editions today after A.F.L. printers refused to cross a picket line formed by striking C.I.O. American Newspaper Guildsmen.

The newspaper publishes seven editions daily and a spokesman indicated that the five remaining editions probably would not go to press.

"As long as the pressmen stay out we cannot print," R. O. McAnney, managing editor, said.

A skeleton staff remained at work, but in the mechanical departments the pots containing molten metal used in stereotyping and printing processes were shut off.

"They're getting cool and it would take some time to heat them," McAnney said shortly after 10 a. m. (E.S.T.).

The guild struck at 4:30 a. m. (E.S.T.).

A third statement issued at the same time as management's termed the strike "completely effective" on the big daily—one of the largest afternoon newspapers in the country. The paper claims a daily circulation of more than 600,000.

Printers' groups have rejected the "picket line" of 7500 Guild members, a spokesman said.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York Guild, said that members of the A.F.L. International Typographical Union and stereotypers and related printing groups have rejected the picket line.

In addition to the main plant of the newspaper, three other plants were picketed.

Smith Warns Users Of Fireworks Here

Approach of the July 4th holiday season has already brought many complaints of illegal discharge of fireworks and a warning has been issued by the sheriff and police against this illegal use of fireworks.

Already about a dozen instances have been reported and investigated and Sheriff George Smith said today that arrests will be made. Under the Public Safety Law it is not only illegal to shoot off fireworks but it is also illegal to possess them.

Violation of the law may bring a fine of $100 or 90 days in jail or both.

Under Section 1894-A, subdivision 2, the law states it is illegal to "sell, offer for sale, possess with intent to sell or both" any fireworks and the law provides for a fine of $100 for each offense or 90 days in jail, or both. In regard to possession of fireworks for the purpose of "using" exploding or causing to explode, or having in possession any fireworks" the law provides for a fine of not exceeding $100 for each offense.

Under the law it is illegal not only to offer fireworks for sale within the state, but possession of such fireworks for the purpose of setting them off is a violation of the law and persons caught in the act of setting fireworks off will be dealt with in accordance with the law, Sheriff Smith stated.

In many instances the fireworks are purchased outside the state and shipped in. Investigation is being made of such shipments coming in and the recipient of such shipments will be prosecuted if caught.

Filth in Literature

By FRANK TRIPP

One of the dirtiest books of a generation lately became a best seller—because the very people who decried such writing bought it. It was not the first. There is nothing new, cute or clever about putting gutter language into printed words. The shock comes when a master does it.

A painter who employs finesse can create a work of art by the manner in which he portrays a seductive nude on his canvas. A clever photographer's pose of his subject can picture a naked model as a thing of beauty. The same model need only bend a joint, cock an eye or divert a shadow to become a vulgar hussy.

So can a writer portray a character as sublime or profane by the words he puts into the mouth of his imaginary being. When he depicts filth he can be more vile than a living model could possibly twist the human body to suggest.

Nothing seems beneath a writer who will stoop to it, when he deals in the profanity and filth which abound in the sewers of society. When one clothes his people in silks and furs, and fancies the sewer with gold and marble, he creates a setting which estranges his work as modern writing art—and a best seller.

Some poor devil, living in a loft, trading a miserable manuscript for a crust of bread, could write the same story in its true vein—his characters' faces, his setting a brothel, and he would fare far better for his effort.

OF THE writing evils, profanity is the most unforgivable to many people. I remember the first profanity that crept into the American drama. It was two words, which today's free-thinkers proclaim not profane—just bad taste. It was a scene in "The City". An errant father was opposing his son's marriage. Finally he had to tell his boy, "You are about to marry your own sister." The son grasped his father by the throat and called him a certain kind of two-word bar.

The theatre had not used those words before; audiences gasped. The words remained in the script for New York and Chicago appearances. The Philadelphia, road company and stock company versions deleted them. There was much ado in the press.

That was more than 30 years ago.

ago. Now this curse is almost as common in modern fiction as is the copyright. And it is mild compared to some of the profanity which surrounds it. Obsters will shudder; youngsters take it in stride. Early tolerance of such blasphemy paved the road of reverence for the Holy Name.

Such things bore into literature as termites bore into wood. They startle at first, then become commonplace when something more daring appears on a printed page. Profanity and vulgarity are addictions which thrive in two fields—the exclusive field of ignorance and limited vocabularies, and the measurable field of sophistry and ven for profit.

MANY good people deplore that nothing is done about it. Anthony Comstock's crusade in the 90s did more to promote lewd pictures and books than their creators could have done in a decade. They emerged from their temporary underground, more subtle, and became accepted as a new note in art and free thought.

Fifty years ago New York authorities arrested Olga Netherland because of her realistic portrayal of "Sappho." One critic denounced the Clyde Fitch version which she used, as "a rooking compost of filth with which to raise the stars." "Sappho" became one of the greatest box office successes of its day. For half a century purveyors of the sensational have courted interference as a super press agent.

Where gratification of human depravity is involved, crusades defeat their own purpose. Patronage flows to the reformer's target once its whereabouts is made known. In literature, the sensational has sunk far beneath the theatre.

Yet because readers will buy filth doesn't make it right. This feeble voice cries in the wilderness, expecting to accomplish nothing, beyond expression of shame for a generation that glorifies indecency and makes it profitable for those who will write anything for money.

With so many wholesome things of which to write, and the world needing them so much, what a pity that really good writers wallow in the mire when there's such beauty in the heavens.

Barge Burns in Jersey

West New York, N. J., June 13 (AP)—A barge burned up on the waterfront here yesterday while another barge, carrying 100 gallons of gasoline, lay unscathed nearby. Police said the barge, tied up at the New York Central marine terminal for repainting, was a total loss. No one was hurt.

Farm Bureau Asks Rainmaking End in Letter to Hanley

The Ulster County Farm Bureau by unanimous resolution has recommended that New York city call off further rainmaking attempts at this time and that a board be appointed to advise the city when and when not to make future attempts at causing rain.

The Farm Bureau resolution, contained in a letter addressed to Lt. Governor Joe R. Hanley, recommends that the board include representatives of the New York City Water Department, Catskill Mountain area farmers, the summer resort trade and trades that depend upon the weather such as road construction, carpentry and painting.

The board would be appointed either by the governor or by the mayor of New York city, or by both in mutual agreement, according to the recommendation.

Against Further Attempts

The resolution states that the Farm Bureau members recognize the need for water that did exist, but that the members believe no more rainmaking should be attempted now or "for some time" in the Catskill Mountain area, as the Ashokan Reservoir is now full.

"We further believe that such a rainmaking experiment should be under the control of the state and that municipalities or private individuals which foster rainmaking experiments must be liable for the damage which may occur to other individual properties and businesses," the resolution continued.

Secrecy Is Blamed

While deploring the "hysteria rampant in the area" caused by blaming New York city's rainmaking attempts for all of the rain and cold, wet, cloudy spring so far this year, the resolution said the members felt that this was caused to some extent by the lack of information and "secrecy of the results."

The board which the Farm Bureau members recommend would include representatives of the four main types of farming in this area, as well as the water department, resort trade and construction trade representatives.

The resolution suggests that this board would not be liable for suit in rainmaking cases, but could restrict the city from rainmaking attempts "when this board thought such attempts were unwise."

It was reported at the Farm Bureau office at 74 John street this morning that no answer has been received from Lt. Gov. Hanley on the resolution.

Renomination Is Urged

Batavia, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Renomination of both Governor Dewey and Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley is urged by the Genesee County Republican Committee in a resolution adopted last night.

Aman Is Charged With Killing Woman

Liberty, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Charles Paul Aman, 37, of College Point, Queens, was held here on a murder charge today in the death of a 25-year-old hotel waitress.

Aman was arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Robert Rothblatt. The case was postponed for a week to give the defendant an opportunity to contact his wife in Queens and obtain a lawyer.

Aman is accused of killing Gertrude Rau, of Flushing, Queens, by hitting her over the head with an iron pipe during an argument Saturday morning. The waitress, who was beaten on the grounds of the Bush House at Ferndale where she worked, died later in a hospital.

Police said Aman, who was arrested in Queens, had objected to Miss Rau's leaving there to work at Ferndale near here. The pair had been keeping company for some time, police said.

Miss Rau came to this country from Germany three years ago, her sister, Mrs. Agnes Imhoff, lives in Westfield, N. J. Their parents are on a trip to Europe.

Colorado derives its name from the ruddy waters of the Colorado river when it is roily at spring flood stage.

Navratil and Manopoli Score Double Win Over Torrington, 4-1, 7-1

Trail Chiefs by 2 1/2; Joe Sposa Hits Homer

Old Capitals Win Over Morgan's Restaurant, 6 to 1

What a pity that only 466 turned out to watch Frankie Navratil and Johnny Manopoli pitch the Colonials to impressive 4-1 and 7-1 victories over the resurgent Torrington Braves in last night's Colonial League doubleheader at the municipal stadium.

The more the pity because the impression exists that Kingstonians are giving miserable support to the finest ball club to operate here since the 1947 Kingston Dodgers.

The double victory enabled the Colonials to gain a half game on the relentless Poughkeepsie Chiefs who knocked off the Waterbury Timers, 10-1, before an estimated 200 fans in Waterbury. They now trail by 2 1/2 games.

Pitchers Brilliant

Navratil, who now owns three victories and one setback—and Manopoli, first Colonial pitcher to bag six triumphs, were never sharper, never better, never more inspiring as they moved down the Torrington batting array with 11 hits in 16 innings.

Embroidering the twin triumphs was a sixth-inning home run by Joe Sposa—the second of the season—in the nightcap. It was a lusty drive that scored well over the 325-foot marker in right field.

Navratil lost a shutout in the sixth inning of the seven-inning opener when he wild pitched Ed Musial, brother of Stan the Man, to second after a single and Dick Lenzi, a pinch hitter, lashed a long single to left center. He was in complete charge in the eighth and ninth, walked only one and fanned three.

Karson Triple
Kingston moved ahead 2-0 in the fifth as Rudy Karson tripled into the right center alley behind Frank Merola's single and scored on Third Baseman Ed Dietrich's double. A double by Sam Piacentino and back to back singles by Joe Sposa and Ralph Matzer accounted for another pair in the sixth.

Manopoli lost a shutout in the eighth because of his own generosity. He walked Ed Musial, Johnny Battaglia and Bob Mather to lead the socks with one out and Jim Callahan, chased Musial across with a long fly to right. There were only two other Torrington threats against the courageous little right hander who had beautiful stuff and superb control after the shaky first inning. Harvey Porter and Johnny Walter came to his rescue with stunning plays in the sixth. Porter made a nice running catch on Jim Callahan's long drive for the second out. Kelchner and Dietrich then stroked singles and Lenzi blasted single into center. Walter moved briskly over second base for a beautiful step and throw to nip Dietrich on a force at second for the final out.

Piacentino Pounded

The greeting committee was out early for stubby Frank Piacentino, the Torrington pitcher in the nightcap. Johnny Walter singled to open the game and presently found himself on third via two errors. Porter singled and Nick Pepio doubled into right field. Sam Piacentino belted a two-run single before Larry Kelchner turned Joe Sposa's line drive into a double play. Three runs were in and Manopoli had more than enough to assure his sixth win.

Harvey Porter's Texas League double behind Rudy Karson's stroll made it 4-0 in the second. Karson drove an intentional pass to lead the bases in the third but Piacentino couldn't find the plate with Manopoli batting and forced in a tally.

Nick Pepio's second double and Ralph Matzer's line single into center extended the margin to 6-1 in the fourth. Joe Sposa's circuit clou, with one out in the eighth, closed out the scoring for the night.

SIDE LIGHTS: Torrington here tonight at 8 o'clock with Bob Kinzie or Artie Appiebaum pitching for Kingston. Carlos Bernier, the speedy Puerto Rican, cracked two homers as the Bristol Owls came to life and pounded Bridgeport 11-3 before only 163 fans. Fewer than 850 spectators saw the three Colonial League games last night. . . . Kingston is leading the league but the situation is acute here and Thursday, June 15, is another pay day. Joe Sposa top batter of the twinnbill with a homer and three singles. Joe also turned in some fancy glove work around first base. With the sort of inspiration Frankie Navratil has in the grandstand, we wonder how he ever loses a game. Harvey Porter eluded a double and single in the opener and Pepio rained two doubles to opposite fields. We love the way that man swings. Now a really good hitter, Sam Piacentino seems to take a lot of called strikes. Piacentino walked nine men.

Where's Chico?

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Chico Gerard, the hard hitting Puerto Rican outfielder, has assumed the scope of a who-dunit thriller.

The man with the "aching back" has not been seen since Saturday night when he went A.W.O.L. from the club. A check with his landlord yesterday revealed that Chico has departed but his clothes and belongings are still in Kingston.

This leads Colonial officials to think that Chico will be back in a few days.

It is interesting to note, meanwhile, that the Colonials have won three straight since Gerard took off.

ABC Winning Total Lowest Since 1916

Columbus, O., June 13 (AP) — Detroit's Pepsi-Cola entry is the team champion of the 1950 American Bowling Congress Tournament.

By rolling games of 987, 976 and 989 for a 2952 total on May 18, Pepsi Cola managed to win the A.B.C. tourney's team event with the lowest score since the Commodore Barry squad from Chicago turned in 2953 back in 1916.

It was the first time since 1922 that the team champion hasn't had a winning total of 3,000 or better and the first since 1909 that the winner didn't have at least one game of 1,000 or more.

Pepsi-Cola won first prize money of $2,500. In addition, each team member will receive a 250 diamond-studded medal and the team sponsor will get a trophy worth $1,000.

Team bowling ended at the A.B.C. last night—the 59th day of the tourney. Doubles and singles will be rolled throughout today with the last two-man event slated to begin at 5:30 p. m. (E.S.T.).

A.B.C. officials said many low scoring teams will be surprised when they receive prize checks. Before the last 72 teams took the Coliseum floor last night, a score of 2364 was still in the money. The previous low team score to cash in was 2638 in 1940 at Detroit.

Finishing in second place in the team event was Harry's Men's Wear of Newwood, O., a Cincinnati suburb, with a total of 2938, rolled in mid-April, which was good for a $2,000 prize.

The remaining top ten and their prize money included: American Bowling and Billiards, New York city, 2932, $1,500; Germania Undertakers, St. Louis, 2926, $1,250; Wagoner and Adler, New York city, 2923, $1,000; Baltz North End, Chicago, 2922, $900; Modern Bowler, Detroit, 2916, $800; Washington Shirts, Chicago, 2916, $750; State Fair Recreation, Detroit, 2914, $700; Marion and Sanders, Lansing, Mich., 2912, $660.

The box score for Pepsi Cola: Frank Gable . . . 208 227 205 838 Steve Morris . . . 208 187 213 801 Cass Schaff . . . 203 205 169 577 Ed Bukowski . . . 210 183 201 503 Ed Enster . . . 160 201 201 562

Poughkeepsie Card Draws Good Crowd

Georgie Kaplan, Jimmy Grippo's listie candidate for the heavy-weight championship of the world, won his 25th straight bout last night as professional boxing returned to Riverview Field, Poughkeepsie.

A crowd estimated at more than 3,000 saw Kaplan score his victory over Keene Simmons of Jersey City, former Golden Gloves champion, in the feature event of the listie enterprise promoted by the Center Club.

Kaplan, who has a powerful left hook, scored most effectively in the last two rounds of the eight-frame duel, and was the unanimous choice of the referee and two judges.

Kaplan Aggressor

After looking to the body and head in one-two fashion, Kaplan kicked the rugged 198-pound Negro with straight rights, that might have spoiled the puncher's record had they been delivered earlier in the scrap. Simmons went into the ring with the reputation of never having been knocked down.

Simmons stood his ground all the way, and Kaplan tried from the beginning to score a knockout, but their close-quarter punching looked ineffective to the fans outside the ring-side section, who sent up a few boons of displeasure.

However, when Kaplan started flailing in the seventh, he put Simmons in position for the sizing looks and crosses that pressed any doubt as to his right to the decision.

Grippo Satisfied

"My boy got started a little too late," said Grippo, who picked Melio Bottom, the Beacon Beaconer, to the light-heavyweight championship of the world. "I think he'll make the grade to the title," he added.

Kaplan weighed 196, two pounds less than his opponent. Other results score: Billy Neri, 148, Brooklyn, outpointed Jimmy Dillon, 141, Denver, Colorado, six rounds; Frankie Carini, 142, Brooklyn, outpointed Eddie Rollins, 139, Harlem, six rounds; Arthur Wallace, 168, Brooklyn, stopped Billy Crosswell, Raleigh, N. C., in 1:49 of the fourth round; Bobby Gaultier, New York's west side outpointed Arvolino Bird, New York's east side, four rounds; Neil Kerkel, 150, Bayonne, N. J., flooring his opponent for a count of five in the third round, decided Gordon Hunt, 157, New York, four rounds.

Ernie McCormick Fires Two-Hitter And Fans Twelve

Third Straight Loss For Morgan's Men

These must be sad days for Jimmy Morgan, one of the scrappiest ball players who ever trod a mountain diamond.

Jimmy takes one look at the City Baseball League standings and winces. His tossers have dropped their first three starts and are ingloriously holding up the league standings.

Ernie McCormick, the New Paltz fireballer, two-hit him into submission yesterday, 6 to 1, for the Old Capital Motor squad that was winning its second decision in three starts.

But for a walk and a couple of sixth inning miscues, McCormick, who fanned 11 batters, would have achieved a shutout.

Beethold Loses

Jerry Beethold, fresh from the K.I.S.'s nine, pitched a respectable eight hitter but couldn't handle Bill Olen in the clutch. Olen collected three of the eight Old Capital safeties and knocked in four tallies.

The Morgans escaped a knosoming in the sixth when Beethold walked and scored on successive bobbles by Decker and Amato.

Olen Has Four RBIs

Olen chased home two runs with a single in the second after Lucas walked and Felipe doubled. He came back with a triple in the fourth to drive in McCormick, who singled and Decker who walked. Olen scored later when Bob Skover erred on Barringer's grounder.

Felipe, Old Capital leader, whacked a double and single. The two Morgan safeties were

Five Millionth Concrete Block at Island Dock

The production of the 5,000,000th concrete block to be produced by the Island Dock was observed Monday. New Ohioville Substation Begun

To meet rapidly increasing demands for electric power in the area west of the Hudson river, the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation has begun construction of a new 20,000 kilowatt, 110,000 volt, semi-automatic substation at Ohioville two miles east of New Paltz.

The new substation will receive power from a 110,000 volt transmission line which originates at Pleasant Valley, passes through Ohioville and terminates at East Warden. The substation will reduce power from this line to 66,000 volts so that it may enter the existing 66,000 volt transmission network system at Ohioville to serve the west side of the river.

Voltage conditions will be improved and an additional source of power will be made available for a broad area including the cities of Catskill, Saugerties, Kingston and Newburgh. The network also supplies power to the Edisonville Electric Company and to the New York State Electric and Gas Corporation in Sullivan county.

Switches in the new substation will be controlled from Poughkeepsie by direct wire connection.

R. D. Chipp, 17, Drowns in Lake

Robert Deyo Chipp, 17 son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney R. Chipp of George street, Rensselaer, who was to have been graduated from Columbia High School at Last Greenbush in two weeks, was drowned in Burden lake Monday afternoon. He was a former resident of Kingston, a nephew of Warren Chipp of this city and Colonel Arthur C. Chipp of Keelson.

He and four companions had gone to Burden lake for a swim after school Monday and according to state troopers, the boys had gone in near the "country road" and after swimming near shore for a time started out for an island some 100 feet away. Midway Chipp sank beneath the surface of the water and efforts by his companions to assist him were unsuccessful.

Robert was an outstanding athlete at Columbia High School and had recently been awarded a scholarship to Springfield College where he was to take up physical education in the fall. At school the six foot, five-inch boy had been one of the members of the Columbia basketball team for the last two seasons. As center he was one of the outstanding players of the area. He had compiled an enviable record in track and was holder of school records in the high and broad jumps. He was manager of the football team and was editor of the Columbian the school year book.

The body was recovered two hours later by state police and dumped from the Rensselaer county sheriff's office. His father, Rodney R. Chipp is head of the social science department at Columbia High School at Last Greenbush. In addition to his parents, he is survived by a sister, Sylvia.

Robert Deyo Chipp was born in Kingston and attended Rensselaer grade school where his father taught. He is a grandson of the late Dr. R. D. Chipp of Kingston and a grand-nephew of Charles Winnans Chipp and Miss Katherine Chipp of 150 Clinton avenue, Kingston and Mrs. Josephine P. Jock of Hurley.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

The land comprising the state of Pennsylvania was planted to William Penn by Charles II on March 4, 1681.
